

Marginalization and subculture groups: Prostitutes, actors and tavern-keepers in Byzantium

International Symposium

16-17 May 2019
Lecture Hall
Department for Byzantine and
Modern Greek Studies
University of Vienna
Postgasse 7-9,
Staircase 1, 3rd Floor
1010 Wien

Thursday, 16 May 2019

	14.00	Registration
	14.30	Welcome Sebastian Schütze , University of Vienna Dean, Faculty of Historical and Cultural Studies Maria A. Stassinopoulou , University of Vienna Chair of the Department of Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies Ewald Kislinger , University of Vienna Projectleader
	14.40	Despoina Ariantzi , University of Vienna: Introduction
Chair: Despoina Ariantzi	15.20	Session 1: Theoretical Approaches to the Byzantine Outsider Dion C. Smythe , Prince Muhammad bin Fahd University, Dhahran Studying sub-groups, minorities and underclasses in Byzantium: theoretical approaches
	16.00	Coffee Break
Chair: Nikos Zagklas	16.30	Session 2: Actors and Performers Ruth Webb , University of Lille The problem with performance: why were actors and actresses marginalised? Przemyslaw Marciniak , University of Silesia, Katowice A history of marginalization? The imagery of mimes in Byzantine literature
	17.50	Reception
	20.00	Dinner for participants and invited guests in a traditional Austrian restaurant

Friday, 17 May 2019

Chair: Ewald Kislinger	10.00	Session 3: Prostitution Thomas A.J. McGinn , Vanderbilt University, Nashville Marginalized in Plain Sight: Female Prostitutes in Late Roman Society and Law Günter Prinzing , Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz Zeugnisse zur Prostitution in den Quellen zur spätbyzantinischen kirchlichen Rechtsprechung (1204-1453)
	11.20	Coffee Break
	11.50	Cecily Hennessy , Christie's Education London Mary Magdalene, Marginalized and Demarginalized Frank Meier , Karlsruhe University of Education „Wenn du die Dirnen vertreibst, werden die Leidenschaften alles verwirren“ Zwischen Achtung und Verachtung – Prostitution in mittelalterlichen Städten
	13.10	Lunch Break
Chair: Andreas Külzer	15.30	Session 4: Innkeepers Ewald Kislinger , University of Vienna Einrichtungen byzantinischer Gastlichkeit – zwischen aselgeia und euergesia Beate Böhlendorf-Arslan , Philipps University Marburg Gasthäuser und Tavernen im byzantinischen Kleinasien
	16.50	Remarks and Conclusions
	19.30	Dinner for participants and invited guests in a traditional Austrian wine tavern (Heuriger)